

Expression of Interest to Present
Annual Caribbean Valuation & Construction Conference
April 29-30, 2021 | Port of Spain, Trinidad

Theme: CURRENT AND EMERGING INNOVATIONS/ADVANCEMENTS

Innovation: Improved productivity, reduced costs and better quality are crucial components to meeting taxpayers needs and expectations. Increasing efficiency requires exploring current advancements and emerging innovations for possible integration into current processes where applicable and feasible.

Stakeholder Engagement: Construction, valuation and management of real property involves many stakeholders with varying interests and requirements. A clear, transparent mediation process can play an important role in facilitating dispute resolution.

Quality Review Audits: This is an essential part of analyzing and validating the efficacy of processes, procedures, and compliance with regulatory requirements. These audits are also a key component of measuring the effectiveness of efficiency gains in delivering a quality product as measured against defined objectives.

Data Management: Data quality is a general term which can be segmented into several components – accuracy, consistency, relevance, systematic maintenance and a governance framework.

The Conference will address issues as they relate to valuation and construction. Proposed topics should be relevant to the theme of Current and Emerging Innovations/Advancements. The broad topics listed on the left, as well as the more detailed list below, should assist in selecting a subject of presentation/discussion. Additional topics not on this list will be considered as well.
